

Curriculum Vitae

Feiyu Xu

Professional Career

2008 – today

Senior researcher and project leader at DFKI LT-Lab

2007 – today

Co-Founder and CEO of the Yocoy Technologies GmbH, Berlin.

2000 – 2008

Senior software engineer and project leader at DFKI LT-Lab

2004 – today

Vice-Director of the Joint Research Laboratory for Language Technology of Shanghai Jiao Tong University and Saarland University

1998 – 2000

Researcher at DFKI LT-Lab, Saarbrücken, Germany

Education

May 1987

With High Honors, obtaining the enrolment admission into the Bachelor program at the Shanghai Tongji University with a waiver of the national admission exam, P. R. China

July 1987

Graduation from Maanshan Second High School, Anhui Province, P.R China, (“summa cum laude”)

1987 – 1991

Bachelor student of Foreign Language Department (Major: German) at Shanghai Tongji University, Shanghai, P.R. China

1992-1998

Master student at the Department of Computational Linguistics, University of the Saarland, Saarbrücken, Germany

1998

Diploma degree in Computational Linguistics (with “distinction”)

Master thesis: Semantic Underspecification and Ellipsis Resolution (with “distinction”)

Supervisor: Prof. Dr. Manfred Pinkal

2007

PhD degree in Computational Linguistics (“magna cum laude”)

Thesis: “Bootstrapping Relation Extraction from Semantic Seeds”

Supervisor: Prof. Dr. Hans Uszkoreit

Invited Stays abroad as Intern or Guest Researcher

August 1996 – September 1996

Intern at SRI International, Cambridge, UK

May 2002

Guest Researcher at the Computer Science Department at the Shanghai Jiao
Tong University, China

March 2004

Guest Researcher at the Computer Science Department at the University of Texas Dallas, USA